Sebastian is the patron of soldiers, shooters and war invalids, dying people, firemen...

According to the legend he was born in Milan or in Narbonne. He was a soldier serving in the army of emperor Carin, after him also in Dioklecian's army. The emperor found out that his favourite soldier is Christian. He was given to the archers. However, Sebastian survived. When he healed, he stepped forward the emperor and called him a murderer of Christians. He did not survive the second execution.

Saint Fabian is patron saint of potters and tin pourers. He came from popular Roman genus of Fabians. He was the pope from years 236 to 250. He died as a martyr.

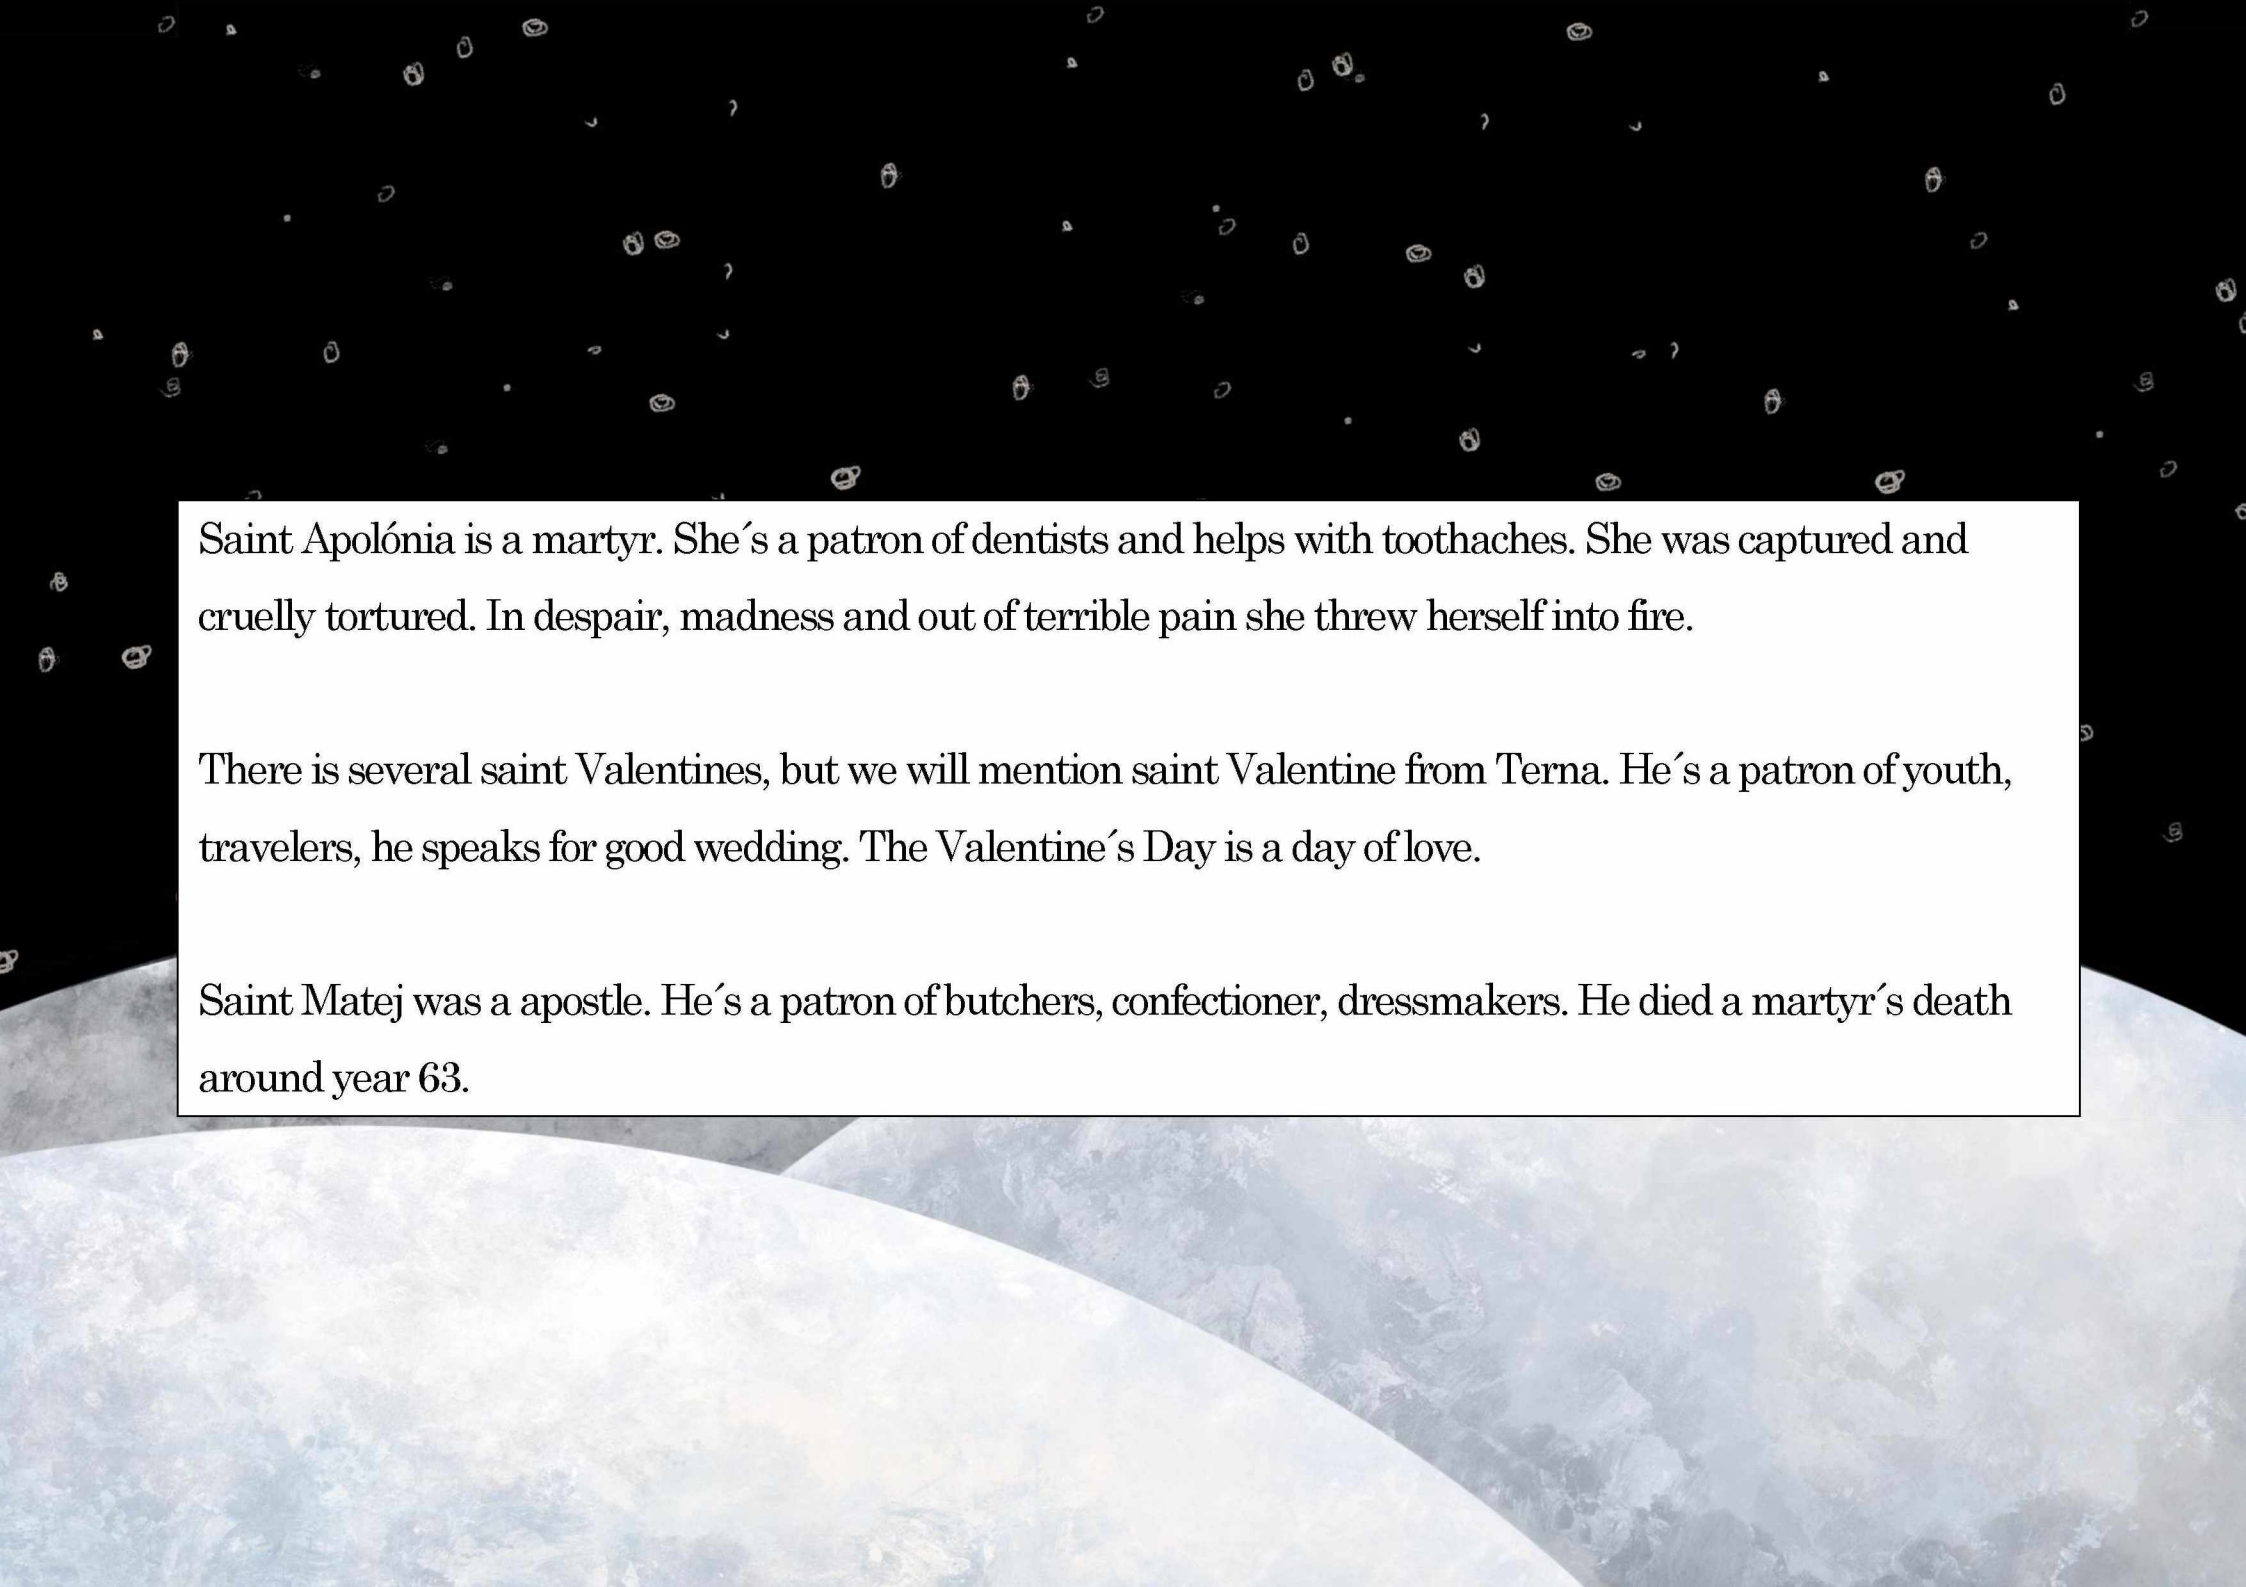

The biggest frost in Slovakia is usually at about the 20th January. We called this period Fabian's winter. However not always is January cold, so we have also a different pranostic:

17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 Matej	25	26	27	28	29	1
Matej breaks ice, if there isn't any, it will be in March.“
2	3	4	5	6	7	8

Saint Apolónia is a martyr. She's a patron of dentists and helps with toothaches. She was captured and cruelly tortured. In despair, madness and out of terrible pain she threw herself into fire.

There is several saint Valentines, but we will mention saint Valentine from Terna. He's a patron of youth, travelers, he speaks for good wedding. The Valentine's Day is a day of love.

Saint Matej was a apostle. He's a patron of butchers, confectioner, dressmakers. He died a martyr's death around year 63.

Saint Hugo was from Grenoble and he was a bishop. He was born in 1053 in France.

Since his youth he was humble and lived following strict christian lifestyle. After Council in 1080 he took over the diocese of Grenoble, which was in a terrible state. There was poor morality. Things gradually got in order, but Hugo paid for it with his own health. He died on 1.st of April 1132.

Saint Stanislaw was a bishop in Cracow and died like a martyr. He was born around year 1030 in Szczepanowe in Poland. He is a patron of Poland and Cracow. He spoke out against King Boleslav II. for his sinful life cruelty to his subjects and threatened him with excommunication. An angry king killed the bishop during Holy Mass on 11.4.1072.

Curiosities

On 11th of April 1984 in eastern Slovakia, grey-re fog started to create. It lasted three days. During a longer stay outside, eyes started to sting and it was harder to breathe. It was the dust from Africa, which, in the strong southern currents got higher in the layers above our territory and began to sink to the ground.

Strange events

1.7.1988 it rained in Slovakia. The rain includes gentle yellow sand from Sahara. In Bratislava and in Nitra after the rain remained car windows opaque. This phenomenon is not very rare. It occurs in middle Europe just 5-10 times a year.

Seven brothers (sleepers)- was sons of saint Felicita. Their names was Januarius, Felix, Philip, Silvanus, Alexander, Vitalis and Martialis. They were soldiers. The legend says that they were mansonry in a cave during the Decius's persecution of Christians. 170 years later was exposed the cover and people find sleeping brothers. Allegedly the brothers took over. But a few days later the brothers died.

13.9. Special thing that happend

13.9.2005 was observed aurora borealis in Slovakia. Eyewitness wrote: "In the early morning in New City over the Vah at about fourth hour am summer time I saw a purple sky from the window of my room. The sky was partly cloudy, hilly clouds were sweeping, which were dark and white. It was possible to see stars at some places. The aurora was over north-west horizon in shape of an inverted cone, not in stripes like a rainbow. It can take for about 15- 20 minutes. I thought it can be a refraction, but I can't understand where such a light source would come from at night, because the Moon was in the first phase." Before this event there was a report in media that in previous days were explosions on the Sun and exists a big probability that the aurora borealis will be seen also in the middle Europe.

		When Catherine walks on the ice for us, Eve leads us through mud.
30	1	2	3	4	5	6

Saint Martin from Tours was a son of a pagan Roman officer. Saint Martin was in Galia and there he met a half-naked beggar. He gave him a half of his military cloak. As a young soldier he became a Christian. A white horse connects with saint Martin. But we know one more animal that is connected with him. The animal is an ordinary goose. Why? Allegedly Martin's father was very angry because Martin believed in God. The father wanted to punish his son. Soldiers were looking for Martin, but they could not find him. The soldiers were already on their departure, when one goose screamed. So, geese are still blamed for the betrayal. On this day they go under a knife.

DECEMBER 2021

28	29	30	31	1	2	3

Saint Lucy is the saint- patron of blind people, servants, writers,... She was born at about 286 in Syrakuzy. She came from rich family. Primary she should have a marriage, but then she decided to be a single and virgin for God. Her dissapointed admirator told about her to government like a Christian. She became a martyr.

Pranostics

– the wisdom of our ancestors which survived for centuries

January

When January is warm, submit on fate

When grass grown in January, crop failure it is expected.

February

When snow's in February, spring and summer will be pretty.

White and freezy February, the higher

March

It's March, go dancing old man.

When wild geese return in March, spring will be good.

March's dust and May's mud is to farmer
more precious than gold.

April

If April is joking. It will be lot of hay and grain.

If April is pretty. May will be pink.

Cold and rainy April, harvest will visit us.

May

Even frequent thunder promises good year,
farmer will rejoice thick rye.

If May is cold, it won't be a famine that year.

If it rains in May- it rains gold.

Rain in May is more expensive than Vienna.

June

Do not pray for rain in June, rain will come itself
when we start to mow.

July

In July, no one is in the courtyard, but it's thick in fields.

August

The winds in August are heralds of autumn.

Thank the Lord for the size of a beautiful stack.

September

September is spring of autumn

If September is clear and dry at night, mushroom won't grow.

October

The more red berries of hawthorn and rosehip is produced, more frost and snow will bring approaching winter.

If is October green, January will be cold.

If are thunders during the October, the winter is near.

November

If stars glow in November, it will be frosty very early.

If November is wet, the whole winter
is going to be wet.

If snow fall into mud, crop won't be rich.

December

The frosts that weaken in December mean bad winter.

Cold December- early spring.

Lots of snow, lots of bread.
